AUTUMN

by Emily Dickinson

The morns are meeker than they were,
The nuts are getting brown;
The berry's cheek is plumper,
The rose is out of town.
The maple wears a gayer scarf,
The field a scarlet gown.
Lest I should be old-fashioned,
I'll put a trinket on.

Where in the poem does the author use rhyme?

- a. At the beginning of each line
- b. At the end of every other line
- c. On every line in the poem
- d. There is no rhyme in this poem.

A BIRD CAME DOWN

by Emily Dickinson

A bird came down the walk:
He did not know I saw;
He bit an angle-worm in halves
And ate the fellow, raw,
And then he drank a dew
From a convenient grass,
And then hopped sidewise to the wall
To let a beetle pass.
He glanced with rapid eyes
That hurried all abroad,--

They looked like frightened beads, I thought;
He stirred his velvet head
Like one in danger; cautious,
I offered him a crumb,
And he unrolled his feathers
And rowed him softer home
Than oars divide the ocean,
Too silver for a seam,
Or butterflies, off banks of noon,
Leap, splashless, as they swim.

How does the bird change throughout the poem?

- a. The bird walks throughout the poem.
- b. At the beginning the bird is being watched and then he escapes.
- c. The bird is hungry at the beginning and then it is full.
- d. At the beginning the bird is calm and by the end he is frightened.

2. SNOW FLAKES.

by Emily Dickinson

I counted till they danced so
Their slippers leaped the town -
And then I took a pencil
To note the rebels down -
And then they grew so jolly
I did resign the prig -
And ten of my once stately toes
Are marshalled for a jig!
