Your book club took a vote on what they would read next, and like always, it was a draw. They meet at the library and usually work things out before closing. This time, however, they stormed off, and before you know it, there's another problem. The lights are off, and the library is closed! Can you find your friends and escape the library before you get into trouble? (click to continue...)

Challenge #1

1. Practice identifying the features of a dictionary.
2. Use your answers to clear the mystery section of the library!
3. Collect a book from the mystery section before you go. I bet it's a good one!

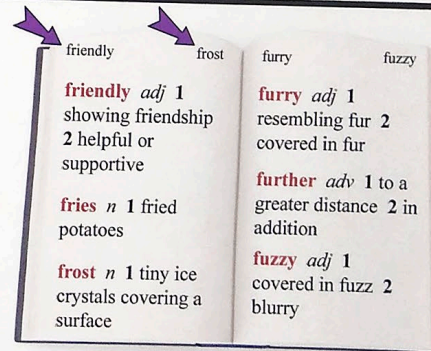

1. If you were reading a poem with many words you did not know the meanings of, what kind of reference book could you use to help you?
 - a. An atlas
 - b. An encyclopedia
 - c. A biography
 - d. A dictionary
2. Which of the following correctly describes an entry word?
 - a. The word that tells the reader the part of speech
 - b. A sentence that tells the reader what a word means
 - c. The word that is being defined
 - d. The word that tells the reader the last defined word on the page

3. What are the purple arrows pointing to?

- a. The parts of speech
- b. The guide words
